NR+R

Healthy Cellular Ageing Supplements

Celebrate Health at Wellth

NR+R

NAD⁺ is a co-enzyme critical to healthy cellular energy production. It regulates cellular processes and is required for proper cellular energy utilisation and DNA repair. However, NAD⁺ levels decline with age, leading to a decline in cellular metabolism and energy production, thus resulting in fatigue and lower cognitive function. You start feeling less energised with age.

As ageing occurs at cellular level for all body tissues and systems, the ingredients of NR+R targets cellular ageing, resulting in an overall youthfulness in body functions and appearance.

Nicotinamide riboside aids in raising cellular NAD⁺ levels. Increased NAD⁺ encourages healthy cognitive function in ageing adults, restores DNA repair and prevent cell death under stress.

Resveratrol, a plant compound, promotes healthy insulin sensitivity and inflammatory response, and also protects against the effects of a high-fat diet.

Together with other ingredients in the supplement, a once daily convenient dose of NR+R fuels healthy ageing from within. It will get your cellular energy machinery working at optimal level, just like when you were younger.

Look young, Feel young and Be young from the inside.
